BARRETONE

BARRETT HIGH SCHOOL

1960

EDITORIALS

Choosing a vocation is one of the most important and difficult decisions we will face upon graduation from high school, unless we have majored through these four years toward a particular goal.

As we grow up we have dreams about what we want as a vocation, but we find that our career choice has changed as we mature. As a result, we still have not prepared ourselves for the particular goal or job we may have selected. This may mean furthering our education toward what we feel will give us satisfaction and enjoyment.

Our higher education may include schooling in a college, business college, vocational trade school, or actual training in the particular field we have chosen.

The future is ours; all we must do is take advantage of the many opportunities made available to us.

Lois Hubbard
Editor

During the last year of high school, we are young adults. This is the time when we must decide which path of life to take.

Look to the future, twenty or thirty years from now. Perhaps some of us are anxious for scholarships, happiness, or pleasure. Our desires can be fulfilled if we strive earnestly toward the goals we have set.

Now is the time to make decisions that will affect our future lives. In this Space Age, education should be important to all of us. We must further ourselves intellectually to benefit ourselves and society.

This is not something to think about hastily. We must meditate on this choice we are to make and be sure that it is what we want from life and not what somebody else wants for us. Only we can finally decide what is best for us.

DEDICATION

When a class is fortunate enough to have the rare person who is attractive, helpful, kind and efficient, then it can count itself very fortunate indeed. Mrs. Grandone has only been here at Barre High for two years, but in that short time has endeared herself to everyone with whom she has come in contact. To those Seniors who were fortunate enough to have been in her classes, and all who are now in her home room this year, the time spent will be fondly remembered in years to come. With the thought that Mrs. Grandone is truly "Grand" the Class of 1960 respectfully dedicates the 1960 Barretone to Mrs. Roberta Grandone.

CLASS HISTORY

The time has come for an account of the past four years by the Class of 1960. These years have passed very swiftly, and this chronicle will reveal whether they have been fruitful years.

53 horrified students entered the portals of Barre High School in September of 1956 --- a grueling experience for anyone. Mr. Vallario was on hand to greet us and guide us through our first year. Monsters, identified as upperclassmen and later found to be students like ourselves who had once endured the same ordeal, made the days of orientation more difficult.

The Magazine Drive was thrust upon us before a month had passed and, although eager to make a good first impression, the Ice Cream Social found us exercising, as is customary for Freshmen, at the back of the Assembly Hall.

At the Freshman Assembly we were sure the floor would collapse from all the stamping by the upperclassmen. The noise was effective, as it astonished and frightened us, but the terror was even worse when the Frosh were forced to sing to the school song, which we had hardly mastered, all alone.

Our class officers for this year of bewilderment were Tom Panaccione, President; Carol Britton, Vice-President; Evelyn Kowal, Secretary; Alan Houston, Treasurer, and John Mason, Student Council Representative.

Seven boys responded to the call of basketball season by playing on the Junior Varsity Team. They were Joe Neri, Tom Panaccione, John Panzyck, Ted Guilford, Dave Whigham, Paul Larrabee, and Paul Mann, who was captain. Barbara Galvin held a spot on the Girls' team.

Cheryl Merchant succeeded in winning first prize in the Callahan Contest, and Evelyn Kowal placed third in the Prize Speaking Contest; both of these were a credit to the class.

With one down and three to go, the Class of '60 commenced its Sophomore year. Mrs. Upham was our helpful homeroom teacher. The first few days we did our utmost to disturb our Freshmen replacements, but then settled down to business with the election of officers: John Mason, President; Joyce Harty, Vice-President; Marion Damon, Secretary; Evelyn Kowal, Treasurer; Tom Panaccione, Student Council Representative, and Joe Heyes, Washington Fund Treasurer.

Evelyn Kowal was chairman of the Sophomore Social, the sole event sponsored by the class that year. Pumpkins, black cats and witches on broomsticks adorned the walls of the hall to render a Halloween atmosphere. A clever skit about a ghost family provided entertainment preceding a fun-filled evening of dancing.

Basketball season aroused the usual interest of Joe Heyes, Joe Neri, Paul Mann, Tom Panaccione, Ted Guilford, Louis Youngsma, and Barbara Galvin. John Mason managed the basketball and baseball teams. Joe Heyes was the only Sophomore to play baseball.

Peter O'Connor exhibiting his dissected cat, walked away with the first prize in the Science Fair, while Carol Britton won the honors in the Prize Speaking Contest.

And then we were Juniors and Upperclassmen! Mr. Delehanty was our counselor. The class leaders that year were John Mason, President; Tom Panaccione, Vice-President; Evelyn Kowal, Treasurer; Karen Kallio, Secretary, Marion Damon, Student Council Representative, and Joyce Harty, Washington Fund Treasurer.

Activities for the year included two food sales and a supper. The supper offered something different - ham and beans rather than the usual spaghetti or roast beef. Thanks to the excellent organization of Barry Hesselstine, everyone was pleased with the service and the delicious meal.

The Class of '60 was again well represented on the basketball court and was very proud when our own Paul Mann received the Most Valuable Player Award and Ted Guilford was presented with the Good Sportsmanship Trophy. Also, for the first time, two of our classmates were chosen for the cheerleading squad. Karen Kallio and Carol Britton were at local games to cheer the team on to victory.

Cheryl Merchant captured first place in the Prize Speaking Contest while Lee Perkins placed third. Lee won second in the Science Fair.

Shortly after Christmas vacation the class commenced preparations for a most momentous event - our Junior Prom. Carol Britton was elected chairman and "With a Song in My Heart," the theme and song. The weeks of planning resulted in an unforgettable evening. Even though our rings did not arrive in time for the Prom, we received them shortly after and with great pride showed them to the envious underclassmen.

A month after the Prom we were doocmed by exams and then came graduation. Tom Panaccione and Karen Kallio, as Class Marshals, led the Seniors to receive their diplomas while the rest of us were faced with the realization that the next year we would be presented with that tremendous reward.

With three years behind us the Class of 1960 now held the coveted position of Seniors. Mrs. Grandone served as class advisor and aided us in our numerous events.

The mighty task of Class President was placed on the able shoulders of Tom Panaccione. Barry Hesseltine was elected Vice-President; Karen Kallio, Secretary; Evelyn Kowal, Treasurer; John Mason, Student Council Representative, and Joyce Harty, Washington Fund Treasurer.

Our energy exerted as magazine salesmen was well rewarded with a great victory in the Magazine Drive, after placing second last year and last as Sophomores. We were aghast to learn that the Freshmen finished in second place, beating the Juniors and Sophomores. The Ice Cream Social brought out the gluttony in us all, causing much discomfort and regret hours later.

Tom Panaccione directed the Senior Bazaar on a bright sunny day in October. A food sale, rummage sale, cider, apples and various games contributed to a day of merriment. The Senior Tea, with Karen Kallio as chairman, was held in the Assembly Hall in November. We gathered with our parents and teachers for a pleasant afternoon. Also in this month we sponsored another ham and bean supper which gave an encouraging boost to our treasury due to the efforts of Chairman Damon and the cooperation of the class.

The Alumni Social was a gala affair. The amusing play "The Christmas Tree," was followed by the distribution of presents to the alumni by Santa Claus. Remember that slipping pillow, George? A swinging fifteen piece orchestra provided a delightful evening of dancing. A new feature at the Social was tables and chairs arranged at the back of the auditorium for brief respites between dances. The occasion brought memories of our Junior Prom.

Joe and Paul were co-captains of the basketball team while Tom, Ted, and Dave were among the members of the squad. Karen and Carol were cheerleaders.

Early in January preparations began for "Junior Miss," a comedy chosen as the class play. We are all grateful to Miss Olander, who was greatly responsible for the brilliant success of the play which kept the "house" filled with the laughter of amused people.

Many Seniors participated in the Science Fair, and two of them, Lee Perkins and Tom Panaccione, won first and second prizes respectively.

At last April vacation arrived, and we were off to Washington and New York, a trip which was the culmination of four years of anticipation. It fulfilled our most fantastic dreams!

Suddenly it was time for final exams and then graduation, the event which terminated our high school careers.

This completes the record of the Class of 1960. These have been fruitful years during which we have matured mentally and physically. Friendships have been fostered and memories stored which will last throughout our lifetimes.

CLASS TRIP

The time was 8:00 A.M. Monday, April 18, 1960; the place was Barre High School; the occasion was the beginning of an annual class trip. But, this was not an ordinary class trip! Yes, Seniors of Barre High School, you remember the date well because it was our class trip.

We went by bus to Springfield where we boarded a train bound for Washington D.C. We arrived at our destination at 6:30 P.M. the same day. From the station we walked to the hotel where we were to stay while in Washington. We were left to our own resources that evening.

Bright and early Tuesday morning we began a long day of sightseeing that was conducted by our jovial bus driver "Bob". Our first tour took us to the United States Capitol Building and the Smithsonian Institute; from there we proceeded to the Arlington National Cemetery where we witnessed the changing of the guard at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. After this memorable experience we boarded a bus which took us to Alexandria, Virginia and Mount Vernon, the home of George and Martha Washington. Before we toured this beautiful estate, we were treated to a delicious meal of Southern Fried Chicken at the Pen Daw Restaurant. Later we returned to Washington where we viewed the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

Wednesday, our final day in Washington, we toured the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the Washington Monument, the tallest structure of stone masonry in the world. From there, we visited the National Art Gallery where we ate lunch at the famous cafeteria of the same name. That afternoon we also had a guided tour of the shrine of the Holy Lands and catacombs at the Franciscan Monastery. After this we visited the National Cathedral which houses numerous shrines and the tomb of the Bishop who presided at the time of its founding.

Our stay at Washington was completed with a tour of the National Zoo and a free evening.

Thursday morning we boarded a train for New York and the Taft Hotel, our home for the next two days. That afternoon we went to the R.C.A. Building and then took an elevator to the observation roof from which we had an over all view of Manhattan Island. After eating, we went to the performance at Radio City Music Hall, which featured the "Rockettes" and the movie, "Don't Eat The Daisies," starring Doris Day.

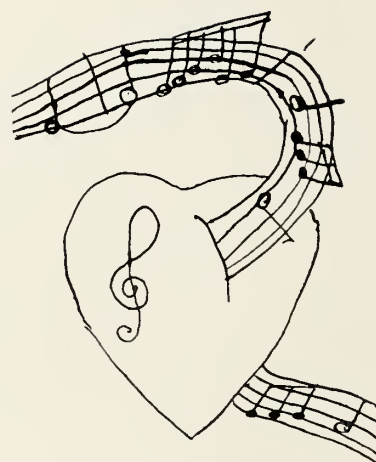

Since Friday was to be the last day of our trip, we spent the morning shopping or resting. After lunch we were on our last tour. The tour included Wall Street, the Bowery, and China Town; it came to its conclusion at Grand Central Station. Here, tired, but full of wonderful memories, we boarded the train which was to take us home.

The senior class would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who made this wonderful trip possible, especially our chaperones, Miss Long, Mr. Dawson, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jordan.

JUNIOR PROM

For the theme of our Junior Prom, held on May 8, 1959, we chose "Song in My Heart". Carol Britton served as chairman. Russ Cole's orchestra provided the music.

The hall was beautifully arrayed with pink and blue streamers, and from the ceiling hung golden cut-outs of clarinets, saxophones and violins. To set off the theme, a large lacy heart, with little hearts and musical notes ornamenting the walls, gave a lovely background for the pictures. Russ Cole's orchestra provided the music.

There was truly a song in the heart of every Junior that night.

There's a song in each heart
It's our prom and a wonderful night,
Just a song at the start
But it fills every heart with delight.

Music fills the air
On this night with you
A dream that we knew comes true and
Hearts are happy and gay
That a night such as this came to be
'Though it soon fades away
In our heart it's a sweet memory

And we always knew
That this dream come true
We would share in our hearts, with you.

PROPHECY

June, 1985

Dear Mrs. Grandone,

The long awaited day is soon approaching when the class of 1960 at B.H.S. will gather for its 25th Class Reunion. Everyone has made a reservation for the exciting night.

Pat Skowyra, the home economist at the high school, has contacted David Sottile, the manager of the new Barre Night Club, and together they are planning a delicious seven course meal. Dance music will be played throughout the evening by the orchestra of our most famous class member, Mike Fagnoli.

The evening should be a momentous occasion for all. Jeannette Kasputis, a state policewoman, has arranged to have the club well-guarded because of the prominent people that will be present. Bob Whigham, that nationally famous disk jockey, will be on hand to provide the entertainment. Cheryl Merchant has volunteered to lead the school songs and may also render a solo. She is the favorite nurse at Hahnemann Hospital where she is working because she loves to sing her patients to sleep.

Tom Panaccione will welcome the class members and will be followed by Karen Kallio, who has prepared a brief summary of our high school years. Tom is director of the U.S. Forest Rangers in Alaska, and Karen was supervisor of nurses at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital until she got married.

Carol Britton, the Washington correspondent for the New York Times, will surely attract attention when she walks in with her handsome husband, who was recently elected to the U.S. Senate. Rebecca Ryder hopes to travel on the same plane as Carol. While a hostess for TWA, which is now owned by Barry Hesselstine, Becky met a prosperous businessman and she and her husband live in the South with their four children. David Whigham, retiring from the Navy soon, may also be on the same plane. He's looking forward to spending the trip in the cockpit with John Jackson, the pilot.

Ted Guilford owns a prosperous landscaping business. Dorothy Higgins is his private secretary. Ted recently completed the landscaping for the new home built by the George Marshalls. George is well known throughout the state for his shooting ability. On his reservation for the reunion he stated that he and his wife would come if they could find someone to babysit for their many dogs. Albert Regienus furnished the lumber for George's house. Bertie owns a large contracting business, and his many years of hard work have made him one of the busiest contractors in the state.

Many members of the class became teachers throughout the nation. Beverly McKinstry is flying in from Quebec where she is head of the French Department at Laval University. John Mason is a history professor at Harvard. He and his wife are receiving congratulations on the birth of their eighth child. Elizabeth Vaidulas is at the head of the Math Department in a Philadelphia high school. Betty and Maria Trifilo are planning to drive up to the reunion together. Maria was a third-grade teacher but her teaching career ended when she and her husband established a gigantic supermarket near Philadelphia. Marion Damon entered the field of education for a few years but gave it up after she got married and the first of her four red-heads arrived. Joyce Harty is teaching in the new Barre High School. She has been a great aid to Dave Sottile in planning the reunion.

Anne Pitisci visits Barre once in a while. She is now married to a brick mason in Ware. Barbara Galvin is still the librarian in Barre. She married a prominent lawyer and they have two sets of twins.

Flying in on a special Air Force Plane will be Nancy Morris. Nancy's husband is now a general and was given his own plane to attend the reunion. While I'm on the subject of the Armed Forces, you may recall that after graduation from High School, Marilyn Newcomb and Evelyn Kowal planned to join the WAF's. Well, Marilyn stayed for a year but she married the Surgeon of The U.S. Air Force, and they now have 10 children. Evelyn remained for 3 years, and she is presently living in Washington, D.C., married to a marriage counselor. Bertha Heyes joined the WAC's and is a recruiting officer in Boston.

The class of '60 added much to the scientific development of the United States. Lee Perkins designed the first successful rocket to go to the moon and return in the same day. Ed Taylor rode in this rocket and will have some exciting stories to tell at the reunion. Bob Taylor gained his fame in the Navy as a submarine designer and pilot. Wendell Stanley is chief Navy Electrician and devised a more efficient way to provide electricity for Bob's newest submarine.

Ben Greene is a forest ranger in the Athol area. He and his wife are kept quite busy raising three little "Smoky the bears". Ben and Paul Mann meet each other once in a while at school sports events. Paul has just completed 15 years as basketball, baseball and football coach at Gardner High School. His teams haven't lost a game yet.

Alan Blake is a very successful mechanical designer. His main office is in Turners Falls, and his personal secretary comes from Montague. Another successful businessman is Matthew Cirelli, who owns the Cirelli Contracting Co. Matthew wrote that while doing business in Worcester, he often meets Peter O'Connor for lunch. Peter is owner-manager of the O'Connor Tool and Die Making Plant.

Our class even has its own hair specialists. Diane Cauvin owns her own beauty salon in Boston, and Joe Neri runs his own barber shop in the summer and is private barber for the Boston Celtics in the winter. Diane's business is so large that she needs Lois Hubbard as her private secretary. Lois is the only secretary in Boston who can type and answer the phone at the same time. This ability was a necessity for Diane's business.

I've told you all about our class members so that you will be sure to come to the reunion. As you can see the members of your homeroom in 1960 have contributed much to the world in many different fields. We hope you will help us celebrate our exciting reunion!

ANYBODY FOR A SWIM?

October 10, 1959 and the weather couldn't have been finer. Crisp apples, tangy cider, tasty hot dogs and hamburgers were on hand to satisfy the hearty appetites built up by playing games or lingering over interesting sales. The food table, laden with cakes, cookies, pies and the like, was soon emptied.

Thanks to the combined efforts of chairman Tom Panaccione and the class, a profit was realized.

SENIOR PLAY

"JUNIOR MISS"

On February 19, 1960, the Senior Class of Barre High School presented its Senior play, "Junior Miss", under the able direction of Miss Karla Olander. The play revolved around the Graves' family. Evelyn Kowal played the title role of "Junior Miss", Judy Graves, who upset the whole household and her mother and father, Tom Panaccione and Marilyn Newcomb, with her crazy antics. Karen Kallio played the sophisticated sister, Lois, who always had an entourage of boys pursuing her. Beverly McKinstry was the maid, Hilda. Carol Britton played an excellent part as Judy's best friend, Fuffy Adams. Barry Hesseltine was Mr. Graves' obnoxious boss, J.B. Curtis, and Marion Damon played his daughter, Ellen, who fell in love with Mrs. Graves' criminal (?) Willis, played by Ben Greene. Some very exciting incidents arose when Judy tried her hand at matchmaking. George Marshall, Ted Guilford, Ed Taylor, Bob Taylor, Joe Neri, and Peter O'Connor were a few of Lois' beaux. David Whigham played Fuffy's brother, Barlow, and Wendell Stanley was Judy's first date, Haskell Cummings. The bit parts were played very well by Bob Whigham as the janitor and John Jackson as the Western Union boy.

The profit the class realized and the fine reception of the play by the audience made the time spent on its production well worthwhile.

CLASS HISTORY

After a restful summer vacation, we entered Barre High School, with the title of upperclassmen. Our class advisors were Mr. Baker and Mr. Decelle, and our class officers were: Douglas Phillips, President; Michael Staiti, Vice-President; Margaret Fleming, Secretary; Martha McQueston, Treasurer, and Paul Sullivan, Student Council Representative.

Basketball was the favorite sport with the class of '61. Michael Staiti, Francis Gromelski, Douglas Phillips, and Richard Allan were on the varsity team. Representing the girls' team were: Ann Puchalsky, Geraldine Clem, Martha Difley, Rita Cioci, and Carol Gulino. Ginger Klein, Martha McQueston, Paula Gould, Jean Damon, and Carol Murphy contributed to the fine cheering.

Martha McQueston placed first in the Prize Speaking Contest. Brian Wells our class scientist, won first prize and James Harrison received third in the annual Science Fair here in Barre. Receiving Honorable Mentions were: Martha McQueston, Ginger Klein, and Ann Puchalsky.

After our two successful food sales and our spaghetti supper, we began preparing for our Junior Prom-an event we had all anxiously awaited. The evening was a most memorable occasion. Our theme was "Stardust"; the decorations consisted of stars, fountain, mirror ball, and arbor.

After surviving an exciting year, we are waiting to see what lies ahead for us as Seniors next year.

CLASS HISTORY

Upon entering the familiar portals of Barre High School, the Class of '62 embarked upon its Sophomore year by dutifully electing the following officers: David Tucker, President; Kenneth White, Vice-President; Frances Werner, Secretary; Marlene Mansueti, Treasurer, and Thomas Guilford, Student Council Representative.

We were once again sorry to report that the Magazine Drive found the Sophomore class in the ignominious position of fourth place.

With Mrs. Upham as our fine guiding hand, we tackled the second event on our agenda, the Sophomore Social. Held at Ruggles Lane Auditorium for the second year in a row, the Social proved to be an enjoyable evening of dancing highlighted by some excellent entertainment.

Although the boys in our class have not yet seemed to take an active interest in sports, the girls compensated for them with Marlene Mansueti, Patricia Pitisci, Joyce Young, Rosanne Mercik, and Priscilla Hale as members of the girls' basketball team, and Maureen Britton as manager.

In the Prize Speaking Contest, Maureen Britton placed second for the girls and Philip Brewer, first for the boys. Maureen Britton also rated an Honorable Mention in the Science Fair.

As our Sophomore year draws to a close, we are eagerly anticipating our Junior year and the status of "Upperclassmen".

CLASS HISTORY

When the class of 1963 entered Barre High School in September, we were forty frightened Freshmen. After a few days we accustomed ourselves to our new schedule under the helpful direction of Miss Long and Mr. Pitisci.

At our first class meeting we elected our class officers: Stephen Perkins, President; John Lamacchia, Vice-President; Marcia Potter, Secretary; Mary Ann Mertzic, Treasurer, and Robert Janulevicus, Student Council representative. Blue and gold were chosen as our class colors.

After the Freshmen Assembly we found ourselves a true part of B.H.S. For the first time in twenty-seven years we placed second in the annual Magazine Drive.

Our class was ably represented in basketball this year. Ned Berthiaume, David Dansereau, Roger Gariepy, Robert Janulevicus, Richard Lamacchia, Angelo Salvatore, Geoffrey Watson, and William Whigham were on the Junior Varsity Team; and Thomas Taylor made the Varsity. Playing on the girls' team were Leslie Teagno, Myrle Taylor, and Mary Ann Mertzic.

Marcia Potter placed fourth in the Prize Speaking Contest for the girls; Lawrence Gould won second prize, and William Whigham and Lewis Valente tied for third place for the boys.

Our Freshman year has sped by quickly. We hope that in our next years at Barre High School we will continue our hard work and good times.

DANCE BAND

Through the hard efforts of Mr. Vincent Mischitelli, the past school year has been a very successful one for the newly organized dance band. Three senior class members were represented as a part of the popular group: Mike Fargnoli on the trumpet, and John Jackson and John Mason on the saxophone. The dance band appeared in concerts in Barre and Hubbardston, where it was well acclaimed.

Under the direction of Mr. Vincent Mischitelli, Barre High School was able to form a band this year that has succeeded in making the music program a more complete and enjoyable one.

On April 28th the band presented its second annual concert and in May it participated in the Western Massachusetts Music Festival in Orange. The band terminated this year's program by leading the Memorial Day Parade.

STUDENT COUNCIL

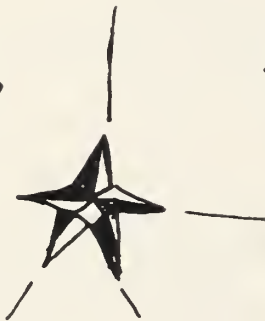

The Student Council this year has been quite active. The annual March of Dimes drive was directed by the council.

Regular meetings were scheduled to organize a code of ethics and to plan programs for the high school.

The officers were: Thomas Panaccione, President; Ernest Hesseltine, Vice-President; Martha McQueston, Treasurer; and Karen Kallio, Secretary.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club was actively engaged in many worthwhile activities.

During the course of the year, field trips were taken to business organizations, such as State Mutual Life Insurance Company and Massachusetts Protective Association, enabling the members of the club to obtain a more definite understanding of the business field.

The year was ended with a banquet at the Old Mill.

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS

Cette année les réunions du Cercle Français eurent lieu deux fois chaque mois sous la direction de Mademoiselle Long. Les étudiants de français qui avaient une note de 85 per cent formèrent le Cercle. En septembre les officiers du Cercle invitèrent Monsieur Dawson à un banquet en son honneur, et en janvier ils conduirent le Cerebal Palsy Drive. Tous les ans, en juin les membres du Cercle Français visitent quelque place d'intérêt aux étudiants de français.

PRIZE SPEAKING

Under the sponsorship of the Barre Woman's Club, the annual prize speaking contest was held in March. Mrs. Upham organized the semi-finals, and the teachers coached the contestants. The results of the finals were:

Boys: 1st Philip Brewer, 2nd Lawrence Gould, 3rd William Whigham and Lewis Valente.

Girls: 1st Martha McQueston, 2nd Maureen Britton, 3rd Beverly McKinstry, and 4th Marcia Potter.

With Carol Britton as editor and Ginger Klein her able assistant, five issues of the Scriptus were published this year. The staff gave much of its time and talents in presenting a publication of school news and literary contributions which would interest the students and be a credit to Barre High School. The commercial department must be congratulated on their outstanding production job which is essential for a good school paper. The cooperation and diligent work of the advisors of the Scriptus, Mrs. Grandone and Mr. Karabatsos, have been greatly appreciated.

First Row. (L. to R.) L. Perkins, M. Newcomb, M. Damon, C. Britton, G. Klein, F. Werner, K. Kallio.

The senior class elected three people to guide the production of the Barretone. The election results were: Lois Hubbard, editor; Karen Kallio, assistant-editor; and Ernest Hesseltine, business manager.

Fran

This year an eighth cheerleading position was added. Previously there have been seven cheerleaders in Barre High. The seniors on the cheering squad were Karen Kallio and Carol Britton. The juniors were Martha McQueston- captain, Ginger Klein, Paula Gould, Carol Murphy, Jean Damon; and the one sophomore Frances Werner.

GIRL'S SPORTS

Everyone looks for good sportsmanship in a game. B.H.S. has always been known for its good sportsmanship, and this year is no exception. Although the girls were not victorious in every game, they displayed sportsmanship of which everyone in the school can and should be proud.

The team would like to thank Miss Long, coach, for seeing them through the season. Also they would like to thank Maureen Britton for giving her time as score-keeper and manager.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

(L. to R.) N. Berthiume, A. Salvadore, R. Janulevicus,
B. Whigham, R. Lamacchia, R. Gariepy, A. Whippee, Manager.

Although the JV's ended the season with a record of 3 wins and 12 losses, much can be said for the fine team spirit. The team always showed outstanding sportsmanship and should be congratulated for its splendid efforts.

Under the faithful guidance of Coach Mr. DeCelle the boys worked hard and in all probability will add much strength to the varsity next year.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

1st. row (L. to R.) T. Taylor, T. Guilford, J. Neri,
D. Phillips, T. Panaccione
2nd. row (L. to R.) M. Staiti, D. Whigham, F. Gromelski,
D. Allan, A. Whippee (manager)

Off to a poor start at the beginning of the season Barre's potential broke loose in the second half of the season as they won 6 out of their last 7 league games. Barre captured 3rd place in the Western Worcester County League with a record of 7 wins and 6 losses. Under the very capable coaching of Mr. Sullivan, the "Hornets" rolled up an overall won-lost record of 11 wins and 9 losses.

In trying for the final "leg" of the Tri-State Tournament Barre was able to defeat its first opponent but could not cope with a strong Pioneer Regional. Our team was eliminated in the second game.
